A SPECIAL FOREWORD FROM ZOOKOD NEUTRINO:

Hey there galaxy fans! Welcome back to another garooovy episode of Shiftlings, the universally (and I mean that literally) popular hyper-show that has our two tenacious techs bravely battle blunders and boo-boos through the most zany and exotic locales of the known universe. Shift work at its best! All of this brought to your holos across the dimensional vortices by our generous sponsors at WePlanet Industries! We Plan It, You Buy It, Your Planet! For those of you just joining us (Seriously? What galaxy do you live in...), two cycles ago we had the fellas visiting the Black Hola Cola hub factory. The lads' shift was simple enough, but well, let's just say things got kinda pear shaped! But now ladies and germs, zorks and dufelzorks, demi-gods and semi-dorks... it's time for the main attraction!
